INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING THE SNAPPY SNARE:

1. Pull the ring down the flexible shaft to the handle to form a noose. Hold the ring with the forefinger or thumb (Fig 1).
2. When the loop is over the animal's head, release the ring and quickly snap the snare up or pull it away from the animal (Fig 2). This takes up the slack in the rope and tightens the noose around the pet's neck. Pets usually relax when the noose is firmly around their neck and they realize they are caught (Fig 3).
3. The Snappy Snare can be held with one hand leaving the other free for balance and to help catch the animal. Some use the Snappy Snare to get a rope around the animal's neck and then use a heavy duty pole if the animal becomes unruly.

SNAPPY SNARE MODELS:

30" Model:

This model is most useful for cats and small dogs. Note: Some people like to attach a leather shoe lace string to the ring. This allows them to pull the noose open and release the animal.

49" and 65" Model:

This model is designed for dogs in a cage or run, or for field use. These snares are for elusive, frightened pets you believe will calm down when restrained. They are not for vicious, fractious animals. If the animal charges after being caught, one has some control by holding the rope and lifting the animal's front legs off the ground. Keep a Ketch Pole handy to slide down over the Snappy Snare if the pet needs more restraint.
